ETIQUETTE FOR ATHLETES AND ENTERTAINERS

OUR PREMISE

Athletes and entertainers often find themselves thrust into the public eye, without the necessary social skills to navigate its complexities. Unfortunately, lack of social skills is not something that is openly discussed in polite company, leading to missed opportunities and potential career setbacks. This is where an etiquette coach, like Mykah Montgomery, can be invaluable. Learning to confidently navigate the press, high profile events and any professional setting with ease can unlock your full potential and help you to succeed both on and off the field and stage.

PREPARING YOU FOR THE BUSINESS OF SPORTS AND ENTERTAINMENT.

OUR SERVICES

Mykah Montgomery coaches athletes and entertainers in a variety of areas, such as media and press interaction, personal branding, networking, professional communication, social media etiquette, and public appearances. She offers this information in a range including both one-on-one sessions and group sessions, which can be tailored to meet individual needs. She also offers speaking engagements to provide insights and guidance to larger audiences. By enlisting her services, clients can gain a competitive edge in their respective industries and feel confident in their social interactions and professional endeavors.

Here's the hard truth: there will be conversations had in rooms you won't be invited into simply because you lack social skills. No matter how much money you make, how great your style is, or how confident you are, your social skills still matter.

"IT'S TIME TO FACE THIS REALITY HEAD-ON AND DO SOMETHING ABOUT IT."
